

DRONES @ XPONENTIAL EUROPE – RATE CARD

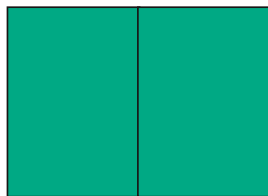

> Our brand: The essential source for the drone industry

Drones is the perfect source of information for everyone who seeks to follow the current developments around the commercial use of uncrewed technology. The magazine for the drone industry informs all essential stakeholders and addresses everyone who professionally deals with the commercial use of uncrewed systems. The brand shows that modern drone technology is a tangible possibility and chance, even for small and medium-sized businesses. The magazine provides valuable information on trends, technology, and current developments in Europe. Therefore, Drones is an indispensable source of knowledge for the industry.

> Our service: A brilliant source for information – the official fair magazine

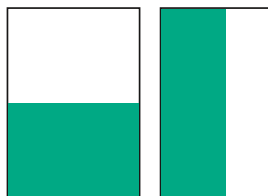

The inaugural XPONENTIAL Europe is already the leading fair for autonomous technologies and robotics in Europe. Visitors to the spectacular convention at Messe Düsseldorf will discover current products and future innovations in uncrewed systems operating across all automated and autonomous mobility domains. As the official Media Partner, the Drones team covers all domains of uncrewed technologies in this fabulous special issue, Drones @ XPONENTIAL Europe. The magazine is distributed free of charge at the venue fair, making it the perfect opportunity to attract visitors to your booth.
